High School Students

Opportunity For

Summer Science Research

High school students interested in devoting the summer to scientific research are invited to apply for the Junior Dental Scientist Award being offered by the Tufts University School of Dental Medicine.

Junior scientists receiving the traineeship award will spend eight weeks on a research project in the dental school's laboratories in Boston, according to the director of the summer program, Donald B. Giddon, D.M.D., Ph.D.

"The students selected will receive a $300 stipend and will work directly under members of the dental school faculty," explains Dr. Giddon, who is professor and chairman of the dental school's Department of Social Dentistry.

He emphasizes that high school juniors and seniors who apply need not have a special interest in dentistry, but that they must be boys and girls who are "genuinely and keenly interested" in scientific research. Application forms may be obtained either from high school counselors or directly from Dr. Giddon at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine, 136 Harrison Ave., Boston, Mass. 02111. Deadline for applications is May 1.

Tufts University School of Dental Medicine is one of 26 dental schools throughout the country offering the Junior Dental Scientist Awards. The program, administered by the Council on Dental Research of the American Dental Association, is supported with grants from the General Electric Company's Dental Health Section and the Warner-Lambert Company. Tufts is the only dental school in New England participating.

Responsibility of Town Meeting Members

V. R. Moreno

Perhaps the biggest fabrication of unwhole cloth this season are the stories being told by the electrical inspectors of Agawam --- both part-time --- in Agawam we have a part-time electrical inspector --- and a part-time assistant electrical inspector --- actually, there isn't enough work for more than one of these part-time employees --- let alone two --- and they both claim they have had to work weekends, too --- and they also are weeks behind on many of their inspections --- Why? Why? Why? They claim 1900 inspections this past year and are requesting $800.00 car expense --- and they claim three miles for each inspection --- Let's toy with this for a while --- First, the total number of permits issued by the building inspector was 362 --- of which --- 106 for alterations and additions --- 45 miscellaneous --- 20 demolitions --- This totals 171 permits issued that were not likely to require electrical inspections --- At least the great majority didn't require inspections e.g. 20 demolitions, 43 miscellaneous didn't require any --- so --- let's give them the benefit of doubt and call the number of permits issued --- 275 --- O.K.? --- Contrary to any projection or statement they may make, it never takes more than two visits to complete an inspection --- but --- let's give them the benefit and call it an average of three inspections per permit --- or 3x275 equals 826 - Total inspection per year --- using their figure of three miles per inspection we will arrive at 3x826. We now have 2,475 miles to travel per year --- the going rate is .08 cents per mile so we now have .08 cents times 2,475 or a total cost for traveling $198.00 and they want $800.00 --- Hmm-mmm. In fact, let's do it another way --- Let's take their figure of 1900 inspections --- and multiply three miles per inspection times 1900 inspections at .08 cents per mile; we get $456.00. How come $800.00 dollars ---?

Let's explore a little further --- this 1900 total inspections includes each family unit in an apartment house --- for example --- an apartment building that will house 80 families when inspected is called 80 inspections. This is not true --- When the inspector is called he inspects whole buildings at a time ---.

Of course, the future is what must be considered --- At this moment, apartment building has been wiped out --- apartments cannot be built in Agawam --- so this leaves homes and a little business construction. That is all --- which this next year will drop the inspections to perhaps 500 - so the logical thing to have done by the finance committee --- was to cut --- not increase ---!!

Note: The inspectors (including the building inspectors) are in for a pay raise, also ---!

The town of Agawam has been set back many, many years --- by the actions of the planning board and town meeting members --- Let me qualify the above to the uninformed --- All must agree that the major portion of the article in the warrant are requests for needs in the very near future --- junior high school --- libraries --- town hall complex --- DPW yard buildings --- playgrounds, (elementary schools - soon, since only homes can be built), kindergartens, swimming pools, and many more --- The Town of Agawam has gone through this dilemma in the past --- and we for one shudder to think we will have to go through this again ---.

We are talking about the retardation of many taxable types of construction which has given Agawam a solid tax base --- Agawam is now reduced to building single family homes --- which means more children, which means more schools --- which means more services --- which means more teachers --- which means more expenses and more --- more --- without revenue coming in --- Now what do we do ---?

We say here and now the tax rate in Agawam in the next three (3) years will increase $30.00 per thousand --- why ---? Because the cost per pupil in the Agawam school system has climbed from 180 dollars per pupil in 1951 to $508 per pupil in 1968 --- It has been a steady climb in the number of pupils and the cost to educate each pupil --- we, today, have risen to the highest cost per pupil at any time in the history of Agawam --- Match this to the number of homes being built in town and we have the same kind of growth. For example, in 1963-68 homes built, 1964-89, --- 1965-113, --- 1966-131, --- 1967-148!! And the prospect for this year, '68, you can look for at least 200 homes ---.

Let me quote verbatim the school committee's statement in their annual report ---

"Since the completion of the eleven room addition to the Granger School in 1964, we have been fortunate in regard to the need for school additions or new school construction. The birth rate held constant or declined. This breathing space is now over. School population is again moving upward at the rate of 125 to 150 per year. The senior high built for 1200 now has 1330 pupils with another enrollment increase due in September 1968. The State Board of Education has notified the school committee that plans for housing and teaching 400 kindergarten children must be detailed by December 31, 1968 and all kindergartens must be operating by September 1973."

A building committee has been appointed by the selectmen. An article for $25,000 to get the preliminary work started to provide for the kindergarten program as well as relieve the senior high overcrowding will appear on the February town meeting warrant.

Another item the taxpayers can look forward to next year --- or perhaps the latest, the following year the requirements for another school will be incubated and ready to hatch --- the saddest part of the whole show is that the 1968 volume of taxable constructed property will be reduced by some three and a half million dollars --- The blow --- The impact --- will shock the taxpayers to numbness when these things begin to take place ---.

Note: Anyone desiring a breakdown on any of the above --- just group together and call me, I will be there --- I will donate the meeting room if needed ---.

Note: To all those mislead town meeting members who have the impression that the amortization of the vets housing is twenty years --- It is not twenty as being quoted --- It is --- forty years --- about twenty-one more years --- and, too, there is some question about if the housing authority has any legal status to separate any piece of the land from the total --- I spent five years on that authority and they would never let us separate a piece of land ---. Now --- I don't know yet.

Just how ridiculous does the planning board think the town meeting members are --- The planning board has two zone bylaw revision articles in the town warrant this annual town meeting --- Article 8 - states - five (5) apartment houses --- a building of five resistant construction, AS HEREIN DEFINED, --- the ridiculous part of the whole thing is --- five resistant construction --- IS NOT DEFINED --- There is no definition of what constitutes a fire resistant building --- in the zone bylaw ---! The building inspector reads into it anything he wants to --- He does not understand the town bylaws --- the building code --- If he did, he would know what a fire resistant wall is ---.

Article 9 again is completely lacking in purpose --- reason --- and sense and must be defeated if the town does not want to spend a fortune in court expenses just to be told to go home and put your house in order.

who reach 65 in 1968 or later will need some work under social security to be entitled to hospital insurance benefits. However, there is no work requirement for entitlement to medical insurance (which covers doctor bills) under medicare.

Q. I do not have the money to pay my doctor bill and he does not wish to collect the medicare payment directly. I understand I must pay the bill before I can receive payment from medicare.

A. This is no longer true. The law has been changed so that all you need to do now is get an itemized bill (paid or unpaid) and send it in with your medicare benefits claims form.

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE INFORMS YOU!

This column is edited by Frank J. O'Connor, chief of the audit division, Boston District, Internal Revenue Service. Questions of general interest mailed to Mr. O'Connor, Post Office Box 323, North Postal Annex, Boston, Mass., 02203, will be answered through this column.

Q. My wife and I sold our home in 1967. We do not intend to buy another house. We are over 65 years old. Do we have to pay a tax on the gain we made on the sale?

A. You may elect to exclude from your gross income part or all of the gain if:

1. You were 65 years of age or older before the date of the sale; and
2. You owned and used the property sold or exchanged as your principal residence for a period (whether continuous or interrupted) of time totaling at least five years within the eight-year period ending on the date of such sale or exchange.

If you meet these requirements you can elect to exclude the entire gain if the adjusted sale price is $20,000.00 or less. If the adjusted sale price is over $20,000.00, an election may be made to exclude part of the gain. The adjusted sale price is the amount realized from the sale after commissions and other selling expenses, minus certain fixing-up expenses. Only one election to exclude gain may be made during a taxpayer's lifetime.

Q. My son worked full-time before going into the Army last fall. I just got his W-2 statement. Does he have to file a return?

A. Yes, your son has to file a return if he meets the filing requirements. However, if he is stationed overseas, he has additional time to do it.

Taxpayers overseas have an automatic extension from April 15 to June 15 to file 1967 returns. If your son is in Vietnam, his return isn't due until 180 days after he leaves there.

Q. I understand there is a new rule on dependent children of divorced parents. What is it?

A. A new provision added to the tax laws last year provides that the parent who has custody of the children for the greater part of the year will usually be able to claim their dependency exemption. However, if the other parent contributes at least $600.00 during the year to the support of the child he or she, under certain circumstances, may be entitled to the exemption. There is also a special rule for a parent who does not have custody and furnishes more than $1,200.00 during the year. The new rules apply only if the divorced or separated parents together provide more than half of the child's support and have custody for more than half the year.

Q. The tax form I got in the mail shows only my name on the label. Since I'm filing jointly with my wife this year, should I use the label or not?

A. Use the label on the form you file but add your wife's first name and social security number to it. Write this in ink at the bottom of the label.

Q. I'm in business and have a retirement plan for myself and my key workers. Is it true I can deduct more of my contributions to this plan now?

A. For 1968, the amount that may be deducted for contributions to a qualified self-employed retirement plan has been increased. A self-employed person can set aside up to 10 percent of his earned income with a maximum of $2,500.00, and deduct this amount on his tax return. If you had a plan last year and are taking this deduction on your 1967 return then the previous limits on this deduction must be used. One-half of the allowable contribution to such a plan with a maximum deduction of $1,250.00 is allowable on 1967 returns.

Q. Do I have to put my wife's social security number on our joint return? Practically all of our income comes from my salary.

A. Her number is required if any of the following conditions are met:

1. She had wages subject to withholding;
2. She had income subject to self-employment tax;
3. She had separate income from dividends or interest of $10.00 or more.

If any of these conditions apply, a joint return without her social security number will hold up processing. You will then be contacted to obtain the missing information. This naturally delays processing and the issuance of any refund you have coming.

Q. What taxes can I deduct on my return?

A. State and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property, and real estate taxes are deductible.

Deductions are not allowed for: Federal taxes, driver's licenses, State and local taxes on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and certain miscellaneous taxes. Also, the cost of automobile license plates are deductible only to the extent it is based on the value of your car.

Q. I made several payments on my son's mortgage last year. Can I deduct the part which went for interest and taxes?

A. Even if your son qualifies as your dependent, the law does not allow you to deduct taxes and interest paid for someone else. Only if the mortgage was in your name, will any deduction be allowed. Then you may deduct the portion of the payment representing real estate taxes and interest when you itemize your deductions.

Double Amputee Cheers Vietnam Wounded

DENVER, Colorado—As double amputee Ewing W. Mays departed from Fitzsimons General Hospital here after a five day visit, he was told by Major General Robert E. Blount, commanding officer, "You are welcome and invited to return again and again to provide your brand of therapy for our patients."

General Blount was referring to Mays' national tour of military and civilian hospitals, visiting the newly handicapped, and particularly the amputees.

His Denver visit was fresh on the heels of an overwhelming tour of hospitals in the Los Angeles area that received much national acclaim.

Mays, who lost both his legs in World War II, plans several nationwide tours this year. In most cases, the military places our wounded servicemen in hospitals close to their home towns. His noble aim is to visit all of these hospitals in 1968. The current winter tour is taking him to hospitals in Nashville, Little Rock, Oklahoma City, Albuquerque, Los Angeles, Phoenix, Denver, El Paso, Del Rio, San Antonio and Houston, Texas; New Orleans, and Memphis.

A tour of Vietnam is also on Mays' 1968 agenda. Mays says, "Someone who has conquered his handicap needs to be there to walk before them, talk to them, and show them that it's not so bad after all."

His work is described as "inspiration-by-example." And what an example! After his tragedy he not only became a successful businessman, but he adopted a permanent avocation of service to the handicapped.

In the years since, he has comforted countless thousands of wounded veterans in our hospitals at home and abroad. In 1951 the Defense Department sent him to Japan and Korea where he spoke to more than 80,000 wounded servicemen, both American and South Korean.

Besides his hospital visitations Mays corresponds with many people who have lost limbs in civilian life. When requested he makes every effort to include a visit to these persons on his agenda.

There is always an air of excitement when this Fort Lauderdale, Florida businessman visits a hospital. One would have to have a trained eye to even know he is a double amputee, Tom O. Mathews, a physician at Brooke Army Medical Center in Fort Sam Houston, Texas, described Mays' visit thusly: "Talking, laughing, dancing at times, cajoling and using methods of friendliness that made it impossible to resist, Mays became, I feel, an actual part of the ward. It was one of those moments which all people are not privileged to witness."

At Fitzsimons General Hospital in Denver, Colorado, patient Gerald S. Schroeder of Saverton, Missouri is carried by double leg amputee Mays. Mays says this helps the boys realize how little a handicap their tragedy need be.
